HELPFUL ADVICE

You won't tell your family doctor the whole story about your private illness — You are too modest. You need not be afraid to tell Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. the things you could not explain to the doctor. Your letter will be held in the strictest confidence. From her vast correspondence with sick women during the past thirty years she may have gained the very knowledge that will help your case. Such letters as the following, from grateful women, establish beyond a doubt the power of

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

to conquer all female diseases. Mrs. Norman R. Barndt, of Allentown, Pa., writes:

"Ever since I was sixteen years of age, I had suffered from an organic derangement and female weakness; in consequence I had dreadful headaches and was extremely nervous. My physician said I must go through an operation to get well. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I took it and wrote you for advice, following your directions carefully, and thanks to you I am today a well woman, and I am telling all my friends of my experience."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

ROBERT WOOD UNDER ARREST

Was Charged With Sending
"Night Rider" Letters
Through The Mails.

THREATENS VIOLENCE.

Warrant Issued on Information Furnished by Louis Dawson, Colored.

Robert Wood, a young farmer near Church Hill, was arrested Wednesday afternoon on a charge of sending threatening letters to a negro man named Louis Dawson, signed "Night Riders." The last of the letters was received by Dawson Wednesday, and was followed by the arrest of the young man. Deputy Sheriff Jewell Smith served the warrant and Wood came to town Thursday morning and arranged bond in the sum of $500 to appear for trial Monday. R. M. Anderson, in whose store Wood formerly held a position, went on his bond.

Louis Dawson and Henry Giles, colored tenants on the Hooper place owned by H. D. Wallace, have received two or more letters each ordering them to move, under threats of violence. The letter to Dawson stated that it was the last warning and if he wanted to save his hide he would have to "skiddoo." When this letter was compared with others received by Dawson and Giles the hand-writing was found to be the same. All of the letters were signed "Night Riders."

The arrest was made under subsection 6 of the Ku Klux act and the penalty is a fine of $100 to $500 and imprisonment from 3 to 12 months in the county jail in each case. Action was taken in only one of the five or six cases.

It is believed that some of the letters were also in violation of Federal Statutes and that the cases may find their way into the Federal Court at Owensboro. The young man is a son of Jas. B. Wood. He claims that he is innocent of the charge. The character of the evidence against him has not been made public.

SHOT HIMSELF.

Former Hopkinsville Boy Insisted On Suicide.

At Central City, where he and his young wife had been living, Ed Boyd made an attempt to kill himself this week.

He married Miss Nannie Morris, of this city, last year. He was a son of Ben C. Boyd, formerly a farmer in this county, but who moved to the city and took the position of buyer for one of the large tobacco re-handlers of this city about twelve years ago. Ed was a small boy at the time and grew up here and soon became an expert in handling the weed.

Having been in ill health for some time young Boyd's wife became apprehensive that her husband would attempt self-destruction and succeeded in getting possession of his pistol and locked it up in a trunk. Shrewdly ascertaining where his weapon had been put, the husband broke open the trunk and got his weapon and shot himself in the head before his wife could force the door. There are no hopes of the unfortunate young man recovering.

AGED 70.

W. W. Stinnett Died at Slayden, Tenn., Thursday.

The announcement of the death of Mr. W. W. Stinnett Thursday was a great shock to Mrs. B. F. McClaid, one of the daughters of the deceased. He had been making his home near Mr. McClaid, City Engineer, but went to Slayden, Tenn., a short time since. He had an attack of heart trouble and breathed his last a few minutes after. One son and four daughters survive him. He was 70 years of age and was a strong factor in breaking up Ku Kluxism in Kentucky while serving a term as sheriff of Todd county. He was a member of the Baptist church.

The remains arrived here Thursday night. Funeral services were held at the residence of Mr. McClaid yesterday morning, conducted by Dr. M. A. Jenkins. Interment was in Riverside Cemetery.

Died At Asylum.

Charles Browning, an inmate of the Asylum, died at that institution last Thursday, of pneumonia. The remains were shipped to Kuttawa, Tenn.

A BIG EVENT TUESDAY NIGHT

Gathering of the Young People At Christian Church at 7:30.

A GRAND LECTURE

College Girls And Boys' Epworth League and Baraca Class.

The new Sunday school room of the Christian church has been chosen for the meeting of the young people next Tuesday night.

The occasion will be one of the most beneficial for young Christians that we have had in the city for years. The committee having the matter in hand have extended invitations to the young ladies of South Kentucky College and Bethel Female College, the members of the Epworth League of the Methodist church, the young men composing the Baraca Class of the Baptist church and the young men of South Kentucky College.

The C. E. Endeavor Union of the city have succeeded in getting Mr. William Shaw, of Boston, who is field Secretary of the C. E. Union in this county, to stop here and deliver a lecture. He will lecture in but three places in Kentucky—Paducah, Hopkinsville and Louisville, in the order named.

Mr. Shaw has a national reputation as a speaker and is doing a great work over the entire country in enthusing the young people of the churches and helping all classes of humanity. The young people's societies are the most powerful auxiliaries of the churches. Mr. Shaw is familiar with the organization of the young people all over the world. No one who can attend should fail to do so. While special invitations have been issued to the societies mentioned above, everybody will be cordially welcomed.

The musical feature of the evening will be highly attractive. The orchestra of South Kentucky College will fill several numbers. Mrs. Hamlett and Mr. Charles Duke have cheerfully consented to render a solo each, and several other talented soloists are expected to take part.

While the program has not been entirely made up as yet, everybody can depend on having a great treat in hearing Mr. Shaw as well as listening to a splendid musical program.

The committee has but one aim in view—to let everybody know what a power for good lies in the societies of young people of the different churches in our country and what Christian Endeavor, whose membership belts the globe, is doing to aid the pastors, bring young people into the churches and build up good citizenship.

Fed Locomotive With Fence Rails.

The failure of hard coal as a fuel for a locomotive gave passengers to a Delaware & Eastern train a novel experience recently, says a Middletown (N. Y.) correspondent. The coal furnished for the engine was so fine that it sifted through the grates of the engine, and near Gregorytown the fire went out and the train was stalled. The male passengers, when they heard the trouble, got out and helped the train crew demolish nearby fence rails to obtain fuel. With this the train was carried along for some distance, and then another foraging party secured a new supply of fuel. After several stops the train reached a point where proper fuel could be obtained.

Brooklyn's Old Belfry Top.

The belfry top of Brooklyn's borough hall has been in a quiescent state for so many years that a good many folks were startled the other day when the bell began to ring as a welcome to the first subway train. Years ago when folks in Brooklyn heard the bell they heard instinctively to count its strokes to learn where the fire was, for that was the way the fire alarms were given. At night a red lantern was hung out on the belfry to indicate the direction of the fire. It was the custom also to ring the bell in case Brooklyn's great anniversary day parade of Sunday-school children had been postponed. Even this was discontinued some years ago.—N. Y. Sun.

Man's Love for Home.

The average man would care for his home above all other places on earth, if he got half a chance. It is in him to do it—it's in the most restless and migratory of his sort. No matter how he roams about he likes to know he has a home to go to, and his fondness for staying in it is in exact proportion—or so I believe—to the degree in which that home approaches the ideal. Not in outward show—most men care surprisingly little about that—but in the qualities which make it a place happily different from the best club or bachelor's hall which ever existed.—Grace S. Richmond, "With Juliet in England."

Furniture Repairs.

The large furniture houses have men to go around and fix up any scratch or damage a customer may find in goods he has bought. His presence in a house, with his snug kit of tools and polishes, usually emphasizes the wabbliness of an old chair, the scar in the table top which Freddie's shoe made months ago and a score of other things with which the repair man has no concern. But he fixes them readily enough, though sometimes pressed for time, and he always carries a good-sized tip. Some days the money thus earned "on the side" exceeds the repairer's salary from the firm.—N. Y. Sun.

Diving for Alligators.

While walking near a pond in the woods, Bullie Ham, who can tell the presence of an alligator by the smell of the critter, pulled off his coat and took a header under the water. While at the bottom of the pond Bullie's leg arose to the surface and waved to the men near the shore. "The warning was heeded by the men catching Bullie's leg and giving it a yank that brought Bullie to the surface, and with Bullie came an alligator that measured some four feet in length.—Apalachicola Times.

The Refort Courteous.

At the terminal of an up-state railroad one day recently a conductor was making a verbal report to the general manager. Among the things that he reported was that his train had struck a bear on the way in. "Was it on the track?" asked the general manager. "No," replied the conductor. "The train had to go into the woods after him."

Portrait of Archbishop Finished.

Alphonse Mucha, a New York artist, has just finished a life-size portrait of Archbishop Parley for the archbishop's house in Madison avenue. The archbishop is depicted seated in a Dagobert chair, which bears the symbols of the four evangelists, and wearing the ermine collar and purple robes with the long train of the Capa Magna of ceremonial occasions.

No Cause for Alarm.

The eminent scalp specialist, having made a careful examination and pocketed a fee, was reassuring his patient, threatened with baldness, who sat before him. "Now, my dear sir, don't be troubled a minute over your hair," he advised, encouragingly. "Quit worrying about it and follow my instructions, and I'll warrant you, it will come out all right."—Judge.

Gave Away Historic Land.

James Douglas, vice-president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, gave the historic land on the New York Palisades which the government has accepted through an act of congress. The property is said to be worth $35,000.

Do Much for Homeless.

The Bowers mission of New York has so far this year supplied over 235,000 meals and nearly 15,000 lodgings to homeless men and boys, its early morning bread line being one of the most pathetic sights in the world.

The Highest Compact.

The highest compact we can make with our fellow is: "Let there be truth between us forevermore."—Emerson.

No Doubt.

"I was counsel for a railway company in the west," says a prominent New York lawyer, "in whose employ a section hand had been killed by an express train. His widow, of course, sued for damages. The principal witness swore positively that the locomotive whistle had not sounded until after the entire train had passed over his departed friend."

"You admit that the whistle blew?"

"Oh, yes, it blew."

"Now," I added, impressively, "if that whistle sounded in time to give Morgan warning, the fact would be in favor of the company, wouldn't it?"

"I suppose so," said the witness.

"Very well. Now, for what earthly purpose would the engineer blow his whistle after the man had been struck?"

"I presume," replied the witness, with great deliberation, "that the whistle was for the next man on the track."—Harper's Weekly.

Causes of Railroad Accidents.

According to the records of the Interstate commerce commission there were 7,432 derailments on railroads in the United States during the year ending June 30, 1937. These accidents resulted in the death of 515 persons and the injury of 6,595. This was an increase of 1,871 derailments over the previous year, with a proportionate increase in fatalities and injuries. A study of the causes shows that a little more than two-thirds of these accidents were due to defects in equipment, the remainder to defects in roadway. The trouble is attributed largely to the enormous increase in traffic, which in recent years has exceeded the carrying capacity of the roads, necessitating the use of every car and engine capable of running, and subjecting the permanent structures to unexampled strain.

Hustling the Pupils.

Most all nations condemn the American system of education. In Germany, France and England, boys and girls are allowed at least ten years longer than here to learn the same things, and thus what they learn is not so easily forgotten.

The hard study required of American school children gives them weak eyes, keeps them indoors too much and affects the general health. The sole aim of the teachers seems to be to hustle them through the grades and get rid of them. We are being so badly criticised for this that it seems as if some change should be made.

Happy in Slumber.

Michael Callahan, a section boss for the Southern railroad in the little town of Ludlow, Ky., has a keen Gaelic wit. One warm afternoon while waiting along the railroad tracks he found a section hand peacefully sleeping beside the rails. Callahan looked disgustedly at the delinquent for a full minute and then remarked:

"Slape on, ye lazy spalpeen, slape on, fur as long as you slape you've got a job, but when you wake up you ain't got none."

Attending to Business.

"You say the officer arrested you while you were quietly minding your own business?" "Yes, your worship. He caught me suddenly by the coat collar and threatened to strike me with his truncheon unless I accompanied him to the station." "You were quietly attending to your business; making no noise or disturbance of any kind?" "None whatever." "It seems very strange. What is your business?" "He's a burglar, your worship," said the constable.—London Globe.

Great Waste Water Canal.

One of the most wonderful underground waterways in the world, which was constructed at the latter end of the eighteenth century by the dukes of Bridgewater, is now being used for the conveyance of waste water from the earl of Ellesmere's collieries, at Walkden, near Manchester. This canal, which is entirely underground, with its arms and junctions, covers over 40 miles.

A Case in Point.

Doctor C—, who always employs two servants—man and his wife—was talking to a patient one day about a couple he had just discharged because the man drank. He remarked: "It is so strange, but it is always the way with a man and wife. If one is good, the other is no good." The patient asked him: "How is it with you and Mrs. C—?"

Benefactor to Cathedral.

A diver is working indefatigably in from 16 to 24 feet of water, putting in a new underpinning for Winchester cathedral. In England it has been suggested that when he completes his work room should be found somewhere for a statue of him minus his helmet, he being one of the cathedral's greatest benefactors.

New Dog Law.

The subcommittee from the House Committee on Agriculture and Committee on Revenue and Taxation, to which was referred the numerous bills repealing and amending the dog tax law, unanimously agreed on a substitute bill, which will be reported to the House with the expression of opinion that it should pass. It provides that each head of a family shall be allowed one dog without the payment of any tax, and for each additional dog a 50 cent tax shall be paid, instead of the present $1 tax on each dog. It is also provided that the tax shall be paid into the County Treasury, and, after all sheep indemnities are paid, the remainder shall be used for public schools or road purposes, as the Fiscal Court may determine. The members of the "dog committee" believe the substitute bill will placate all faction.

Only a Cold.

"Only a cold" is a common expression. And so the victim lets it go on, day after day, red eyes, swollen features, lassitude, sleeplessness, loss of appetite, the irritating cough.

In itself a cold may be simply uncomfortable. In its results it is often fatal. Pneumonia, with its enormous fatality; consumption, with its deadly grip; bronchitis, asthma, these and many ailments are often the direct result of a cold.

The patient may have had many colds. They have resulted in nothing serious. But when the system has become weakened by these repeated attacks, when the mucous membranes are in a chronic unhealthy condition, then it is these fatal maladies assert themselves.

This is no greater mistake than to neglect a cold. At its first appearance measures should be taken to relieve it. At this season of the year, when coughs and colds are common, Peruna should be kept constantly in the house. At the first symptom this remedy should be taken. It will soothe the mucous membranes, relieve the irritation, and the cold will gradually disappear. That this has been the experience of many is proven by the hundreds of grateful letters in our files.

comedy opera they set about securing as many of the old cast as pos-

Lee McClure was also included to

"Artie Tre Billion" so we are theme which has not been before exploited dramatically.

To Charles Klein who wrote the play and Henry B. Harris who had foresight to appreciate the timeliness of it, is due credit for undoubtedly one of the best dramas that has been seen in America in many years. The announcement of the production here is causing much comment.

A Home Remedy That Reduces Fat.

Would you like to have a nice firm figure, but escape the tireless, bone-breaking exercise or the soul-sickening diet of the old-time plan of reducing excess flesh?

Then go to the druggist and ask for this inexpensive mixture: One-half ounce Marmola, one-half ounce Fluid Extract, Cascara, Anarcho, and three and a half ounces Erythrin. Take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime, and in a few weeks you can be as fit physically as a fawn. Mix these ingredients at home if you wish, but see that you get the Marmola in a sealed package. When fresh it acts quicker.

Seen On the Streets

- Mud.
- No ice.
- Lots of Dogs.
- Sparrows gathering straw for nests.
- More country wagons than for six months.
- John Thomas receiving congratulations.
- The ugliest man in town. Guess who he is.
- Young men on the corners watching passing femininity.
- Rags, the remains of attractive advertisements—and how fugly they are, flopping in the wind!
- Lots of little negroes that are a nuisance. They know better how to get in the way than out of it.
- Many white boys who will never make preachers, or anything else of importance, without a great change.
- Many people who have moved to the city and are taken for strangers, just because the town is so large one can't know everybody.

—Two ladies were walking on the street crossing. They met a gentleman who had just had his shoes polished. Neither of the ladies stepped behind the other to give the man a glance. Query: Are all ladies polite?

—A preacher and a lady friend he had just met on the sidewalk entered a store. The lady opened the door and walked in, the preacher following, closed the door. Almost any man would have opened the door for the lady. And yet some people say that preachers are not spoiled.

—Two ladies, one pretty, the other homely. The homely lady opened the door and stepped inside. The pretty woman was admiring herself in the reflection of the show window and didn't close the door as they passed out. "Vanity of Vanities!" Even the pretty women are spoiled by their sex.

NIGHT RIDERS

Were Out on Kirkmansville Road Tuesday Night.

Night Riders visited Mr. W. L. Cannon, a well known farmer who resides about nine miles northeast of the city, on the Kirkmansville road, Tuesday midnight. There were sixteen men in the squad. They called Mr. Cannon out and told him that they had heard that he had sold his crop of tobacco out of the association and wished to know if it was true. Mr. Cannon assured them that the report was false. The spokesman for the Night Riders then said "That's all right" and the gang rode off. After leaving Mr. Cannon's residence the men scattered, going in several directions. Mr. Cannon is a member of the association.

BOB BURDETTE'S BEAR STORY.

Tale Recited by President Roosevelt Around the Campfire.

They were resting around the President's campfire in the Louisiana cane brake. The dogs were asleep with the fatigue of the chase, the guides were lying around feasting their eyes upon the distinguished guest, and the president was enjoying the campfire as a sportsman can.

"Boys," he said, "did you ever hear Bob Burdette's bear story?"

"Wah Bob Burdette's 'ah hantah!" asked Guide Knolls.

"Not exactly," the President answered. "Bob was a much braver man than a bear hunter. He trailed bears in his youth, but when he grew older he became brave enough to follow the lecture platform."

The guides didn't know this last named bear, but they smoked their pipes in confidence of its terror.

"Bob's bear story needs Bob to tell it," the president continued, "but he isn't here, and I'll rattle around his shoes a bit. There were two men going through a field. A large and mean-dispositioned bull waited until they had gained the middle of the field, when he set upon them, following.

"The two men ran for their lives, but the bull closed up and began howling at their coat tails. One of the fugitives made for a tree and shinned into it, while the other took refuge in a hole in the ground.

"The bull made for the man in the hole. It dashed over as he dived in. He instantly bobbed out again, the bull made for him, and he bobbed in and out as the bull shot back and forth. They kept this up for a while, and the man in the tree yelled:

"Why don't ye stay in that hole, ye dang fool?"

"The bull was dashing across the hole with mad roars, and the man was hobbling in and out desperately, but he heard the voice from the tree.

"Dang fool yourself," he retorted breathlessly. "That's a bear in this hole!"

One of the guides threw a log on the fire, an owl hooted off in the timber, and there wasn't a nature faker within 500 miles.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Holland's 1,000,000 Wage Earners.

With 5,500,000 inhabitants Holland has 1,000,000 wage earners. Sickness insurance is voluntary and organized in free associations. In 1890 there were 650 associations, with 600,000 members. Premiums are $1.44 a member; benefits are medical attendance, medicine and sickness payments.

Accident insurance is compulsory (law of 1901). Workmen and foremen in manufacturing are insured (wages) are insured in a state fund, mutual associations or casualty companies. In 1904 there were 84,046 insured establishments. Premiums are paid by employers according to wages and risk. The receipts of 1904 were $888,000. The benefits are (a) disability, free treatment and daily payments up to 70 per cent. of wages; (b) permanent disability, pensions up to 70 per cent. of wages from seventh week; (c) to dependents of deceased, pensions up to 60 per cent. of wages and a death benefit of thirty times the daily wage. In case of willfulness no indemnity is paid, and in case of drunkenness only half. Six hundred and ninety-six thousand dollars were paid (1904) to 45,992 injured and 236 killed. Settlements are made in case of doubt by councils.—Prof. Henderson in Charities and the Commons.

Birds Teach Lazy Man a Lesson.

Go to the birds, thou sluggard, for birds can and do work far harder than human beings. A pair of house martins, when nesting, will feed their young ones in 20 seconds—that is, each bird, male and female, makes 90 journeys to and from an hour, or about 1,000 a day. On each journey the bird has the added work of catching the insects. Even so tiny a bird as the wren has been counted to make 110 trips to and from its nest within 60 minutes, and the prey carried home consisted of larger, heavier and harder to find insects than were caught by the sparrows. Among them were 20 good-sized caterpillars, ten grasshoppers, seven spiders, 11 worms and more than one fat chrysalis.

Appreciation.

"They say Butterworth is going to erect a monument over the grave of his wife's first husband."

"An ordinary man would regard that as a waste of money, wouldn't he?"

"Perhaps, but you see he left enough life insurance to make it possible for Butterworth to get along without working for the rest of his life, and I suppose he feels that he ought in some way to publicly show his appreciation."

Progress of Science.

Fair Patient—I suffer greatly from insomnia, doctor.

Doctor—You should eat something just before retiring.

Fair Patient—But you once told me never to eat anything before going to bed.

Doctor—Oh, that was a year ago. Science has made rapid strides since then.

Courteous Girl.

"Why," asked the divorced count, "do you refuse me?"

"I am afraid," replied the beautiful American girl, "that I might not be able to support you in the style to which you have been accustomed."

Railroads to Cross Andes.

The prophets predict that are many years have passed there will be at least three railroads across the Andes, one of them transatlantic, the others connecting with steamers on the Amazon or its tributaries. The line which now runs from Valparaiso to Juncal is to be extended through a long tunnel, which in five or ten years will be finished, and it will connect with an Argentine road at Mendoza.

The remarkable Central Peruvian road, which rises 6,000 feet in 50 miles from its terminus and crosses the east Peru range at an elevation of 15,665 feet, will in no great time be ready to carry passengers to the Ucayali river, thence there is an 800-mile journey ere the traveler reaches the head of navigation for ocean going vessels. And that place is 2,000 miles from the Atlantic. Another road farther to the north will greatly shorten the journey.

A Domestic Breakdown.

The earl of Kingston is not the first English peer who has had an adventure with a burglar. A well-known lord discovered a thief in his town house. Aided by the butler he secured the man and then rang the bell. A servant appeared whom the peer requested to "go into the kitchen and bring up a policeman or two." The domestic returned and said there were no policemen on the premises. "What!" exclaimed his master, in incredulous tones, "do you mean to tell me that with a cook, two scullery maids, a kitchen maid and three housemaids in my employ, there is no policeman in my kitchen? It is indeed a miracle, and our prisoner shall reap the benefit. Turner, let the man go instantly!"

Jimmie Comes Home.

Thirty years ago Jimmie Carson, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., had his jacket well dusted by his father for breaking the limb of a young apple tree. Jimmie was then ten years old.

That night he ran away, and after living in Philadelphia for three years he went to sea and has since wandered all over the world. He was thought to be dead, but the other day he turned up at his old home. His father and mother were yet alive and living in the same house.

The apple tree was grown until the trunk was the size of a small barrel, and Jimmie picked and ate some apples and said it seemed good to be home again. He rather expected another licking, but his father was too old to give it to him.

Took Novel to Read in Church.

The pastor of a prominent Brooklyn church got the surprise of his life on a recent Sunday. He was about to begin his sermon when a book fell out of the choir, narrowly missing him. He picked it up, laid it on the reading desk, but had time to observe that it was a popular novel. A young woman member of the choir had taken the book to church to read during the sermon. She might have been confused over the mishap, but her companions in the choir aver that the incident amused her.

Displaced Relief.

"That's no good, Jim, that talcum powder stuff you recommended to keep off seas," protested Tommy Keating at the St. Francis.

"No good!" replied Clark McCullough, "guess you didn't take enough of it. You want to use plenty."

"I took the whole canful, Jim, but the blamed stuff liked to choked me. How'd you take it, dry, or wash it down with water?"

"No, no, Tommy; you want to put it on the outside!"

"O!"—San Francisco Chronicle.

Ballasted with Gold.

A section of the Canadian Northern railroad running northwest from Sudbury and crossing the Vermilion river, is unique in that it is ballasted with gold. Every yard of the gravel used for ballast has been found to contain from 50 cents' worth to a dollar's worth of the precious metal.

In the shape of fine dust and a syndicate is installing machinery for its installation.

Deal in Human Hair.

There is a store in Paris which keeps nothing but the hair of famous people. A few hairs from the head of Napoleon are worth about $20, while one can buy quite a lock from the head of any of the ruling sovereigns for a few francs. There is a large demand for the hair of the various popes, and this brings about $10 a lock.

Father of the Post Card.

Lord Kingsburgh, lord justice clerk of Scotland, has attained high rank among public benefactors from the circumstance of his having initiated more than 40 years ago, when a young and little known man at the Scotch bar, the agitation for the establishment of the halfpenny postcard system in the United Kingdom.

Wages Go Down.

Twenty years ago the wages of Nottingham lace-makers were as high as $30 and $35 a week, and the profits of the employers ranged up to 100 per cent. To-day if a man is working full time, he may earn from $12 to $20 a week.

Runs Through Mountains.

A railroad through the mountains north of the Adriatic sea, constructed by the Austrian government to build up the trade of Trieste, though only 120 miles long, has 679 bridges and viaducts. It also runs through 49 tunnels.

STUFFED LEAVES OF CABBAGE.

Change from Ordinary Methods of Preparing the Dish.

Select a large white head of cabbage; core it and pour boiling water in center to cover it. Take one pound of chopped meat, one onion fried brown, one-half cupful of rice which was previously soaked for one hour; season to taste and mix well. Take one leaf at a time from the head and cut off the thickness in center so as not to break when rolling. Take a small handful of the above mixture and roll tightly in the leaf. Pack in a layer in kettle, cover with warm water and boil one hour. Take one quart tomatoes, one half strain, add butter, salt, pepper and thicken it. Let it come to a boil and pour over the cabbage. Serve with mashed potatoes.

To Sew with Double Thread.
Here is a simple way to straighten out knots when sewing with double thread. Cut a length of thread from the spool, double it, twist the two cut ends together and thread them through the eye of the needle. Pass the needle point first through the loop of the doubled thread, form a tiny knot at the eye of the needle. This serves to keep the thread straight and is flat enough to pass easily through the finest fabric. With this arrangement one can work button holes and do any work requiring a doubled thread with never a knotty problem.

Dampening Clothes.
Use hot water to dampen the clothes that are to be ironed and you will find it a great deal more satisfactory than cold. It dampens the clothes more evenly and makes them easier to iron. If the water is too hot to put the hands in use a whisk broom to sprinkle it with. Many laundresses prefer the whisk broom, as they claim that it is less likely to make the clothes too wet. The clothes may be ironed two hours later with good results.

Rubber for the Umbrella Jar.
Cut a piece of your old rubber mat, and place it in the bottom of the umbrella jar. Umbrellas and canes are frequently the means of breaking these receptacles when dropped into them without proper care, and the rubber will help to prevent this. If you have not a piece of an old rubber mat to use, procure a piece of soft sheet rubber, such as is used for packing by steam fitters and plumbers.

Sweet Potatoes, Mexican Style.
Boil them until tender, peel and cut in halves lengthwise. Put one tablespoonful of butter and two of minced onion into a saucepan and brown. Add one heaping tablespoonful each of green and red peppers, minced, two tablespoonfuls of tomato catsup, one of vinegar, and a teaspoonful of brown sugar. Stir well and pour over the potatoes.—Vogue.

Sauce for Duck.
Extract the juice from a quantity of sorrel leaves, add a glass of sherry, some mashed gooseberries, a little sugar. Two tablespoonfuls butter. Boil an onion and serve.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every 3 minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy, some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Mrs. W. I. Bailey, living on east Greenville st., Madisonville, Ky., says: "It is four years since I recommended Doan's Kidney pills through our papers and my confidence in them during the time which has elapsed has not been shaken in the least, on the contrary I learned more about them and can recommend them even more strongly. I said at that time that Mr. Bailey had suffered from kidney complaint off and on for a number of years, and had used almost every known remedy for this trouble but nothing brought permanent results. He finally learned of Doan's Kidney pills and got a box. They benefited him in every way, more so than all the other kidney medicines he had ever tried. He has used them many times during the past four years, and they have never failed to give him relief from these severe attacks. I have used Doan's Kidney pills myself for a weakened condition of the kidneys and they proved just as satisfactory in my case. We both think there is no remedy like Doan's Kidney pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-McIlburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Better Than Gifts of Fortune.

The gifts of fortune are often taken away as speedily as they came, but strength of mind and personal nobility are possessions which survive the external circumstances of life and lift it into grander planes.—Halliburton.

A wonderful how-legged bull-dog is mine—because he has fleas on his spine. Not handsome—but good. Will you not take a peep at Bumpki curled up by the fireplace safety? His passion for bones is a thing to adore! The ranker the perfume, he loves them the more!

I whipped him last week, for he slept on my bed. Next day he was off when I stuck in my head. But there on the spread was the print of his form. I felt of the bed—to my hand it was warm! I whipped him once more and next day when I came to bed I peeked through the glass at Bull Bumpki, the same.

He stood by the coverlet, blowing his best. The man who has his shoes shifted in Chicago is either a spendthrift or an optimist. The shine lasts until the first crossing claims it or a cab driver slushes up against the curb and robs him of 10c cents.

A friend of mine is in mourning. His beautiful maitre d' is crawling into the oven with the turkey Thanksgiving morning to get warm and get overheated. As it were. Result—No Thanksgiving turkey—no cat. Tears! Massachusetts is boasting because it has a banker 100 years old. He says the work at the bank, even at his advanced age, is just like taking candy away from children!

When you ask a waiter if the eggs are fresh or stale and he says: "Yes, sir," and hurries away after the set-up, you may depend upon it that they are—stale.

During a recent parade in Washington the coachman made a bad blunder by calling for "two congressmen and two gentlemen, please!"

A man is very apt to meet his old acquaintances at the rummage sale. Some men are not really as wicked as they think they are.

Sometimes a little man can generate a lot of hot air.

All men are liars, but some of them are bigger than others. Moral—Be circumspect in telling the truth.

An Iowa school teacher asked a small boy what the result was when she said "it" and "2" together? The small boy replied, "Somebody gets licked—usually me!"

Old jokes on new people produce the same results as new jokes on old (meaning habitues) people.

A man should never deny his engagement until he finds out who the girl is, anyhow.

Some men, compared to their clothes, are so quiet that you couldn't hear them drop a pin on a metallic plate.

I have the combination at last. By keeping the sign "This is my busy day" on my desk all the time, I make the president think I am a holy terror to work.

Football Days.
There's a little touch of autumn in the air.
And the college boys are busy growing hair.
—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

There's a call upon the field, and by ear gradually grows larger and then finally part of the page is gone altogether. The best way to mend a torn page is to paste over it a piece of the next page. The printing can be easily seen through this and the page is almost as strong as when new.

To Mend a Torn Page.
How often a page which has a slight tear in it is left unattended until the tear gradually grows larger and then finally part of the page is gone altogether. The best way to mend a torn page is to paste over it a piece of the next page. The printing can be easily seen through this and the page is almost as strong as when new.

A Good Wall Covering.
Burlap makes a very satisfactory wall covering as it lasts a long time and is easily renewed with a coat of paint. Red burlap walls are charming in a library, especially where the woodwork is in Flemish oak.

Home-Made Mucilage.
Get an ounce of gum arabic crystals and dissolve in boiling water. It should be of the consistency of this cream, thin enough to pour easily. When cold it is ready for use.—Harper's Bazar.

Clean Patent Leather.
Patent leather shoes should be cleaned with milk or a little sweet oil may be rubbed into them. The soles and heels of such shoes are, of course, to be cleaned with blacking.

To the Point.
In a Texas newspaper I read the following pointer to users of clean linen: "Don't forget to leave your money for the laundry or we will forget to leave your laundry."—Panhandle Steam Laundry.

Byron Williams

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

If stove polish be moistened with benzine the blacking will last much longer and be brighter on the stove. To remove cakes readily from this place them on a wet towel or cloth immediately on taking them from the oven.

Chopped pecan nuts, almond and pine nuts may be sprinkled over lettuce and covered with French dressing for a dinner salad.

It is said that in sprinkling clothes if a whisk broom is used the clothes will be dampened much more evenly than by sprinkling with the hand.

If when salt and flour bags are emptied you will put them in the clothes hamper to be washed and boiled out, you will always have a supply of jelly strainers. The salt bag is just the thing for the odd glasses of jelly made all during the season.

The next time you make dumplings to add to stewed chicken, instead of mixing them with water, use some of the liquor in which the chicken has been cooked. The flavor is much richer. The same may be tested with good results when making a baked potato, and the richness of the dough is delicious.

TO COOK WESTPHALIA HAM.

Dish Requires Care and Attention to Turn Out Well.

In cutting a Westphalian ham for cooking, one should see that the slices are thick rather than thin, and that all, if more than one is to be cooked, are of about the same thickness. Soak them for an hour in sufficient milk to cover them; then wipe them dry and fry them on both sides, using a little pure lard to grease the pan. When cooked sufficiently, and this means that they must not be fried too long, the meat should be placed upon a hot platter, while a heaping cupful of bread crumbs should be poured into the hot fat in the frying pan. After they have fried a few seconds, for it will not take long for them to brown slightly, moisten them with about two tablespoonfuls of vinegar and a teaspoonful of gravy or good beef stock. Boil the sauce for a few minutes longer; then add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, with enough salt and pepper to season agreeably, and pour the sauce over the slices of ham. You will be astonished at the result.

Chow Chow.

One peck of green tomatoes, two quarts of string beans, one quart lima beans, one dozen ears of corn, one dozen carrots, one dozen onions, one dozen cucumbers, one head of cabbage, five green peppers, three cups sugar, one tablespoon salt, half pound ground mustard, one ounce of celery seed, half ounce of turmeric powder. Slice tomatoes, let stand over night, boil the beans, corn and carrots, bake the cucumbers and peppers, slice the onions and cabbage, boil all half an hour in vinegar enough to cover and add a little salt about the size of a bean in the vinegar.

Ironing Sleeves.

Be sure to have a small ironing board or sleeve board to iron sleeves on. They come the shape of a large ironing board, smaller at one end than at the other. The sleeve can be ironed in half the time it takes to do it on the large board and then there is no crease in the back of the sleeve. Tucked yokes of thin waists may be ironed nicely on this sleeve board without marring the other parts of the waist.

Chestnut Sauce.

Chestnut sauce is an excellent accompaniment to boiled fowl, and forms a delicious sauce for parsley, usually served with it. Boil or bake a score of chestnuts (till tender, then pound the white part in a mortar to a paste, with two ounces butter, a pinch of sugar and one-half teaspoon salt. Mix slowly with the fire-hot pint of cream, stir over the fire till it boils.

Barley and Tomatoes.

Wash half a cup of barley and soak for four hours. At the end of that time put it into the double boiler with one quart of boiling water and one teaspoon of salt. Cook for one hour. Then add one-half can of tomatoes and a medium sized onion cut up fine. Let it cook half an hour longer. About ten minutes before serving mix in one tablespoonful of grated cheese and a piece of butter the size of a walnut.

DELUDED GIRL

Found Out What's the Matter With Hannah.

Danville, Ky., Feb. 13.—Francis William Hannah, who married Miss Margaret Connelly, of this place, on January 22, is now under the charge of bigamy, and the police officials of St. Augustine, Fla., where he is now spending his honeymoon with the last wife, have placed him under arrest and will hold him until requisition papers can be got for his return. He has a wife and two children in Indianapolis.

Hannah is a handsome fellow of thirty-four years, and his latest bride, to whom he has been showing attention ever since coming to Danville, is a handsome young woman of the highest character.

Her brother left for St. Augustine, Fla., to advise his sister of these developments and to bring her home.

BUYER RESIGNS.

Robert Bennett Heeds Warning of Night Riders.

Paducah, Ky., Feb. 12.—The first threat offered a tobacco buyer west of the Tenn. river was obeyed by Robert Bennett, of Mayfield, buyer for Gardner & Walker who represent the Regie Company, and Mr. Bennett has resigned his position. The warning was couched in the usual Night Rider style and was wrapped around a revolver cartridge and a bundle of switches hanging to his door. Buyers in this section are more than ever anxious, as the depredations on the other side of the river have been so bold and uninterrupted as to encourage lawlessness here. They are watching for plant bed scraping, which will begin in the next three weeks if at all.

TWO MEN ON GUARD

Watch being Kept At Milton For Night Riders.

Milton, Ky., Feb. 12.—Wagon load after wagon load of fine burley tobacco is daily being delivered to the three dealers in leaf tobacco here, and a large per cent. of it is coming from Locust precinct, Carroll county where the Equity Association has been the strongest. It is believed here that if the season is favorable that in ten days within a radius of ten mile half the crop will be sold and delivered.

Rumors have come to town of an anticipated visit of night riders, and as a result the town is being guarded every night by two men. Should a raid be made upon this town almost the entire population would answer an alarm and give the intruders a warm reception.
